the experience matters

now more than ever

If there's one thing you can be certain of in times of uncertainty; Matthew Clark is here for you and your business.

With the stability that comes from being part of the FTSE 250 listed C&C Group, we're prepared for whatever lies ahead and we're pulling in resources, expertise and insights across our industry, to help navigate whatever the 'new normal' means for our customers across the on-trade.

With the best and most experienced team in the on-trade at hand, please don't hesitate to get in touch. We're here to help.

Martin Grisman

Chief Operating Officer

The steps we're taking…

- We've kept our depots open and our colleagues working to serve our customers throughout this period.
- We've removed our minimum order value for all of our customers, giving greater flexibility during this time.
- We're offering our customers more flexible delivery day and delivery time options.
- For the safety of our customers and colleagues we've introduced contactless delivery across our depot network.
- Our ecommerce site now includes a guest checkout facility, credit & debit card payment, and live stock updates.
- We developed LOCAL – a takeaway and table service app to support the trade with zero set up fees.
- Working with suppliers, our 'new for old' stock replacement process is in place, and we've secured availability on key products.
